

ABSTRACT

Methods for the treatment and prevention of cutaneous mites and for the treatment and prevention of cutaneous inflammation of mammalian skin associated with cutaneous mite infestations utilizing compositions comprising sulfur, one or more sulfur derivative and a dermatologically acceptable carrier. The composition is preferably a cleanser.